“ I sit here staring at the words, share a memory, how do I pick just 1. I'm so thankful that I do have so many and how much that you and your brothers laughed knowing when our family got together there was always large amounts of food involved and you guys really enjoyed that. I can remember so clearly the day your Mom told me she was sick and she was so scared but when I talked to you and Dustin I knew the best medicine was all you boys and y'all moving back home. You were like the Calvary riding in to save the day. You said now Aunt Lesa you know I'm going to always take care of my Mom. She is the best person I know and I love her so much. The way you boys and your Dad gathered at her side the day of surgery was so heart warming and the look of relief when the dr gave y'all the good news after surgery. The way I had to promise not to leave her side for a minute so y'all could get some rest. You have been so much to so many that I just cant imagine what life is going to be like without you sweetie. I'm so proud of you and I love you and just Save a Place for me, I will be there soon.

“ Oh Robbin how I should have kept in touch more after these past few years. I always enjoyed coming to visit you and you're roommate when y'all lived in that apartment on base in Kentucky just about every weekend. You showed us how proud you were to be able to serve and fight for our country. You was always ready to go every morning. I hate this happened to you. You are gonna be completely missed by many, MANY people.

We all love you and will see you again some day.

“ The young man was one of my favs nephews. I respected and loved him like a son. He served is country proudly. He was with the 101st AIRBORNE serving in Iraq when it was the worst. He then was discharged from active duty came home and then volunteered to go to Afghanistan. He lost good friends in combat, fighting along side them. He helped me move in the last few weeks and we spoke vet to vet about this. RIP. CHRIS I will see you again one day.

“ To all that know him, what a guy he had a heart of gold and loved his family and his country. Just a little memory. About a mo ago we were working on our deck and I ask him if he wanted something to eat and drink, he said yes please a bologna sandwich with mayo and tea with little ice.I laughed at him and said we have burgers and plenty of ice.He said I'm good you should have seen what I had to eat and drink out in the field.I love him and and will truly miss him as many will Rest in Pease young man you have served us well country and family
