“ Barbara was the high school girl next door when I was about in the first grade. She was elegantly beautiful in my 6 year old's eyes. Always nice to me and was even a cheerleader at our local high school (unless I'm too senile to have remembered that correctly. I remember her wedding day -- in the chapel of the new Methodist church around the corner.

She was a great mother as far as we knew from our vantage point next door. The last time I talked with her was when she came to my mother's brief graveside service in 1986. We moved away in 1963, but before that, I remember bouncing her little boy, Chris, on my knee when Was 16 or 17!

God bless her and her family. I KNOW that she is in a far better place this day!
