“ I am deeply saddened to hear of Barry's passing and I offer my sincere condolences to his family. I know you will sorely miss such a wonderful presence in your family. In these difficult times, you can find great comfort in the hope for the future present in the bible at Revelation 21:4. This scripture references future conditions on Earth, in which there will be no more suffering or death. There is also a hope found in John 5:28, 29. The resurrection that this Bible verse talks about will give us the opportunity to see our lost loved ones again. I know it will be a joyous time when you can see Barry's caring smile once more!
