“ My name is Neil Sundal from Western New York. I'm using my wife's Facebook to login as I don't have my own account. I knew Charles back when we lived in Morris years ago, but we still kept in touch over the phone, plus the occasional CB radio contacts. I was able to meet with him again a few years back while I was on my way to Florida. It was a memorable experience as we reminisced old times and updated our livelihoods. There's one thing that never changed about him, his desire to help anybody that needed mechanical work or advice. Money was never his forefront. Trading labor with a friendly hand shake among folks was more his style. He will be sorely missed. By Charley Horse...Switch....out
