“ *I don't even really know what to say. I've been searching for Deborah for a few months, and when I did another Google search, I see her obituary. She and Cassie were my next door neighbors in Spring Creek. We always had a lot of fun, and she was always someone I could to! Last time I talked to her was back in 2007 and I believe she was living in Illinois at the time.
Deborah my dear friend, you are very much missed!*
