Holly worked as an office manager and a bartender for many years. She will be remembered by her family and the many friends she met over the years. Not one to pass on a good laugh with her sister, she also loved giving gifts to her young niece and nephew with the loudest sounds, brightest lights or earworm song, making her a favorite aunt. She is also survived by beloved and faithful friends, Julie Camden, Lori Tomlinson, Tif Farel, Emily Moon, Tony Muhleman Doug Peiffer and many more. Holly never met a stranger, and the warmth of her personality made many people a part of her circle of friends that were also her family. She also leaves behind her special dog and goodest boy, Rooster.

Along with her husband, she was preceded in death by her father, Frank and sister, Heather Marie.

“ Holly was my cousin. We were far apart in years, but close at heart. I will always remember holding her as a baby. She would always cry until I tickled her little tummy. She would then give me the biggest smile!! I will miss you Holly!!❤️

“ Holly was my best friend in high school. I have countless memories that I will cherish and carry with me. Especially the sleepovers at her house, sleeping on the floor next to her bed. Spending the night laughing, sometimes crying but always having fun. It didn't matter how much time had past since we saw each other, when we got together, it was like we never parted. I will always remember her warm smile, kind blue eyes and amazing smile that drew people to her. She was "My Holly". I think she made everyone she met feel like she was their Holly. I love you Holly.
