“ I remember be up at the cab stand and Josh playing pinball and racking up hundreds of games on one quarter, and letting younger and older kids play free games on him, he was probably about 13 or 14. I remember Josh as always being soft spoken and sweet. Never had a harsh word for anyone, I don't think he ever had an enemey. Everyone loved Josh and treated his as a good friend.

“ To the family of Josh especially his sisters. Josh will be missed he was the sweetest person around, heart of gold and full of love, loved his pinball back in the day and could play all day off one quarter and such a great pool player. Heaven received a great man. Bless you all. Never forgotten.

“ Gwen, I've searched for the right words for 3 days but finally realized that if I still have no words after 3 months to express my own loss, then there aren't any words that can make your loss hurt less. I send my love and prayers to you and your family. May the good memories of your brother comfort you as mine bring me comfort. Think of him often, reliving good times and imagining what he would think or say about such & such. It may bring tears but it also brings joy. Kim Ratajczyk
