“ Kevin was one of my close friends. Whenever I was feeling down he would always lift me back up and I like to think I did the same for him. He was always so joyful and seemed to share a laugh with me every time we chatted.

When I first got a Playstation, Kevin was one of the first people I had met on a game we both enjoyed. He welcomed me with open arms and gave me a home to come back to after a long day of work and this little gaming family helped me see that there was still good in this world. Kevin was a man strong of his word and he put up a great fight in discussions. One thing I will always remember is the way he never backed down on his opinion until scientifically proven incorrect. One of my fondest memories of Kevin is that he got this new game and he kept telling me about it by bringing it up casually or even sending me videos acting like it was an advertisement. Kevin, otherwise known as Sev in the game world, you will always be dear to my heart. We miss you.

My condolences to the family❤️ I hope you are all doing well.

“ Kevin was such a friendly guy. He was very polite to us adults and very quick to make sure friends, were included in whatever games were going on. He could also keep attention with a good story! He seemed very motivated and interested in whatever was going on. Our son Daniel had good times with Kevin and benefitted from his friendship.

“ Praying for the family and friends of Kevin. I went to youth group with him at Third Baptist and there was never a dull moment with him. He never met a stranger and was one of the kindest people I have ever known.
