

Lloyd A Phillips

October 19, 1929 - April 27, 2019

Lloyd A. Phillips passed away Saturday, April 27, 2019, at 9:20 p.m., at home on his farm surrounded by family.

Lloyd was born October 19, 1929 to Sid and Eveline Phillips. Lloyd married Thelma “Sis” Baker on March 2, 1953. They were married for 64 years.

He retired from St. Francis Hospital after 30 plus years. Lloyd was an avid fisherman and hunter, who truly loved being outdoors. He loved digging for roots and splitting his own firewood.

Survivors include his wife, Thelma “Sis” Phillips, two grandchildren, Travis (Alicia) Phillips of McClure, and Dana Phillips of Metropolis; three great-grandsons, Logan Watkins, Kendall King, and Easton Phillips; one brother, Bob Phillips of Colorado, a daughter-in-law, Gail Ryan, and many nieces, nephews, cousins, and friends.

Lloyd was preceded in death by his parents, Sid and Eveline Phillips, his only child, Lloyd “Doc” Phillips, and a brother, James Phillips.

Private graveside services were held on April 30, 2019, at Rose Hill Cemetery in Thebes, Illinois.

Memorial Contributions may be made to the American Heart Association in memory of Mr. Phillips.

Crain Funeral Home-Tamms in charge of arrangements.

Tribute Wall

“ Lloyd A Phillips

October 23, 2023 at 06:26 AM

“ I just read that Lloyd Phillips passed away on April 27, and I am so sorry I didn't learn about this in time to come to his funeral. I would have certainly been there! Lloyd and I worked at the same old St Francis Hospital when it was on Good Hope Street in Cape for several years and shared a lot of laughs and complaints about things that happened there. I sure hate to hear that he passed, and offer my Deepest Sympathy to his wife and family. Rose Musgrave Quinn.

Rose Musgrave-Quinn - May 04, 2019 at 09:49 AM

“ worked with Lloyd many years! he was a "man of the outdoors" RIP my brother, we will meet again, nelson e eaker

nelson e eaker - May 03, 2019 at 09:02 AM