“ Mike and I had some good times and some bad times, we laughed, we cried, but we endured. I sure doesn't seem like 18 yrs....where does the time go? If I ever get back to Florida again I will go to Hollywood Beach and watch the sun rise like we did many times, and reflect and remember only the good times. He will be missed by both myself and our dog Molly.

You will not see the sun rise in the east again, nor will you see the moon in all it's brightness in the night sky, nor feel the wind on your face, nor the earth beneath your bare feet.

Today you are going home. May your ancestors greet you and show you the way. May your journey be joyful.

(an Arapho Indian Prayer)

Love you

Roberta and your "little girl" Molly

“ All the crazy mischief you and I got into as kids, seems like it was just a few months ago. I can still hear your laughter, and I'll miss you each and every day. I'll never forget you, Mike! Till we meet on the flip side...rest easy my brother...and tell Mom and Grandma...I said Hello!! {{HUGGING YOU IN MY HEART}}.
