i believe Mike worked for me at Burkart Randall Co. division of Textron in Cairo Il where polyurethane products were made and at the time was largest employer in southern Illinois. He was one of the crew that in 20 hours repaired the foam line incline conveyor with that job normally taking at least 3 days thus preventing layoff of 80 percent of all employees. At the time I was manager of engineering, purchase agent, and maintenance manager (60 persons 3 shifts) all positions held concurrently.
