“ I have so many great memories of Immy. I met him through my late brother in law Glenn Seeber at Cindy B's. It was a great experience to have met him. He was in his signature plaid shirt with the sleeves ripped off. My kind of guy. Us big guys don't do sleeves. After the first meeting, we would see each other at breakfast time. Immy would walk by or table and give me a friendly smack on my shoulder. I didn't even have to look, I knew it was Immy. He was one of the kindest humans I've ever known in my life. I will always remember his kindness and his generosity. He will be missed by everyone who has ever met him. He was a wonderful man who never had an enemy. 🙏😭💔
