“ My mother bloomed for such a fleeting season, but the most interesting flowers usually do. She made everyone around her feel seen, and she believed the best of people. The more outcast, the more she would open her heart, she truly loved as a family of brothers and sisters with the entire world. Those in her direct household, William her brother, Lacey her youngest daughter, Marriah her eldest myself., feel the hole where she used to be. All I can do now is pray the seeds planted in that hole her grandchildren Sebastian and Wynter, along with her great-grandchild Aleya are shower by the love and warmth that Peggy Kelley shared with everyone she knew. And we pray she enjoys watching the garden grow.
