“ Dearest Sharon and Family: This space is intended to help in comforting you and your family with the positive memories Ralph left with us. We are also in shock and can't take away your sorrow but please know we share it with you. To focus on Ralph's near flawless life is comforting. He learned as a child how to pick up his boot straps and go on. He was always hard working, honest, appreciative, responsible, compassionate and respectful of himself and others. He served his country and fellowman always with dignity and deserves our highest admiration for the legacy he has left for you, your family and all who knew him. Take comfort in knowing all these characteristics now follow through to your children and you will continue to see Ralph through the eyes of your children and grandchildren. My prayers are with you always and may the Lord bring peace to all of you. Much love, Nadine Eimer nee Bridgeman
