“ When I was a little girl, my family had The Flower Center in Cairo. I was such a pest for the florists I’m sure but Sandy never made me feel that way! She would let me stick a flower in here and there, would tell me stories and never talked down to me like I was a child. She made me feel important and like I was one of them. She was so funny and I always remembered her sense of humor, her personality and her smile. Rest well Sandy and may your family find peace in their loss. Love your little helper Sarah Underwood Holderfield
