“ I have so many for I am her baby girl but the one that stands out today is her brushing my hair and us singing you are my sunshine and her twirling my hair around her finger making banana curls. As we would finish the song(we knew the whole song)she would be about done now she added a touch of daddy's brilcream on each curl it we was going to church so they would stay with out frizzing she would tell me how lucky I was cause many pay a lot of money to have curls like I had. Well I look back I was lucky cause she took so many moments making memory for me to hold on to I was lucky enough to be so loved by my Momma and Daddy and I still hold on to them both as they was together my hole life and now together in heaven! Miss them so much. It seems like yesterday we was talking and me and Daddy would be talking about or cauliflower salad coming up for Turkey day and as the holidays come makes me miss them so much more cause no matter what we all was doing we would put problems and any thing we had going on and all went to Mom and Dads and many others to gather as family and have dinner with them at their dinning room table and no matter who was there we was a family as we would sit me and momma right by daddy's sides her on on and I on the other we would how our heads as he said thanks daddy would hold mine and momma's hands her cause of love and mine to but also so I would sit still and how my head so I had my attention on his hand holding mine (special) miss those moments
