“ I remember Tim when I worked at Denny's restaurant in Carbondale Illinois. Tim needs to come in during the morning for coffee. And then come in in the afternoon and have coffee. Good-hearted individual always talking and always had a lot of conversation with him. And he liked everybody at Denny's. There was many times that we didn't say anything to Tim until he started a conversation. Cuz he look like he was just one of those people that had to have his coffee before he started a conversation with anybody. The good-hearted individual rest in peace Tim. So we meet again on the other side of this life I'm glad I got to know you as a Denny's worker in Carbondale Illinois.
