“ My Dear Nephew, I have fond memories of babysitting you while your momma worked when you were just 1 or 2 years old. You were such a firecracker, constantly on the go. No wonder they called you "Spark Plug" lol!!! We talked a couple times briefly over these last couple years, and i sure wish it had been more frequently. I knew you were struggling, and it kills me inside that I couldn't help you, as I was dealing with things myself. You will always be in my heart and on my mind, never ever forgotten. I love & miss you, brother. See you soon!!! Until then, Be Free and Easy, Unc.. 🥺 🙌 ❤️ 💙 💜 🎸 🎵

“ The strongest memories I have of you involve my mom babysitting you. I lived on Main St. and we were little kids. I don't remember seeing you very much at all.. If I ever did again until we worked together at Pasta House. I told you that you were my cousin and had to explain to you how your maternal grandpa and my maternal grandma were siblings which I'm pretty sure made us 2nd cousins. I saw you several times throughout our lives as adults through mutual friends, some of whom we are both very close to without that ever really bringing us together. I wish we had been able to grow up together and develop the same kind of closeness I was blessed to have with some of our other mutual cousins. Life kept us distanced from each other while living most of our lives in the same small town, for whatever reason, and it saddens me. In my own way, I managed to keep up with you and how you were doing from time to time. I wish we had been more closely connected as I continue to hear of the impact your life and presence made on those who love you, those you love and the friends we share... Now I simply hope for some insight and information through the memories & stories of others as my only way of getting to know more about you and who you were. It's my own fault. You didn't know much about who I was to you while I knew exactly who you were to me.. You were and will always be my family; my 2nd cousin.. THAT is eternal. I love you.
